Outdoor shopping centre in Malaga

Larios Street is one of the most exclusive streets in Málaga City, is the backbone of the city's main shopping district in the open air. Get an ice-cream made with artisan recipes – try nougat, for instance, or a legendary blanco y negro (iced coffee with vanilla ice-cream) – in ice-cream parlours established in the past century, as you enjoy your window shopping experience. Granada and Calderería are two streets lined with charming shops. The area around the Cathedral rewards shoppers too.

Shopping in Marbella & Puerto Banus

Marbella Shopping It is the playground of the rich and famous. As you would expect, it has an unusually high number of designer clothes and jewellery shops. But it also has several large shopping complexes, as well as hypermarkets, specialty food shops, accessory shops, interior decor stores and gift stores. Most of the top-end brands can be found in Puerto Banús and in the centre of Marbella on Avenida Ricardo Soriano. Marbella Old Town is great place to explore the gift shops and pick up some souvenirs to take home. La Cañada (pronounced Canyada), the main out-of-town shopping centre, has everything you'd expect, from clothes, sports and accessories shops to cinemas and restaurants. Spain's leading department store, El Corte Ingles, has a massive store at Puerto Banus. The best market is at the Plaza de Toros (Bull Ring) Nueva Andalucia and operates on a Saturday.

How and When to Shop

The best way to explore Marbella's shops is by simply strolling through the streets.

Stores in Marbella usually open between 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Some stores close at lunchtime for siesta (1:00 or 2:00 pm) and they reopen at 4:00 or 5:00 p.m. However, larger shops are usually open even during siesta hours. Most of Marbella's shopping centers are closed on Sunday but smaller tourist type shops may well be open - especially in summer.
